Hearing voices does not necessarily mean a person is ill. But it can lead to becoming isolated and misunderstood - and for any of us that can certainly result in becoming very ill indeed..

Many voices can be unthreatening and even positive. It's wrong to turn this into a shameful problem that people either feel they have to deny or to take medication to suppress.

-Prof Marius Romme

I believe Hearing voices approach is emancipatory - not only for voice hearers but also offers new roles for workers and families too - Ron Coleman

Toronto Hearing Voices Group is now in its fourth year !

For one night only we will be holding an open night for all - whether you hear voices, care for someone who does or are just curious how you can do your part helping make the world an easier place to live.

Short presentation, videos, Q&A, Information, pamphlets, trainings and group program for 2015.

If you sometimes hear voices, see things, smell things, feel things, sense things or think things that others don't...
-then you're welcome.

We envisage and enact a society that understands and respects voice hearing, supports the needs of individuals who hear voices and views them as full citizens. This type of society is not only possible, but already on its way.
-Eleanor Longden

In short: if you have the kind of experiences that, when you talk to others about they get their freak on, then you may feel at home with us...
- because we do too.
